

HOW TO ANSWER COMMON QUESTIONS

What is Network Marketing?

It is simply word of mouth referral. Network Marketing Companies cut out expenses (like advertising) to provide a better quality product and ordinary people like you and I get paid for our word of mouth recommendation of their product or service.

What is Arbonne?

It's a Health and Wellness Company that has incredible botanically based products and an amazing income opportunity that helps people create an additional income by consuming and recommending their products.

How do you make money from Arbonne?

Well, everybody showers everyday and we all use personal care products. You earn money because you have the ability to get paid an override on the volume of product going through your network. This increases as you promote. You also receive 35% commission from Client orders & 15% commission on PCs.

Is it Selling?

There are many ways to grow an Arbonne business. It is about simply sharing information on products and/ or an income opportunity that you are passionate about & showing others to do the same. It is selling but not in the way you know it.

Is it a Pyramid?

It's absolutely not - they are illegal. Arbonne is a legitimate Network Marketing company that is a member of the Direct Selling Association. It is an effort-based business where it is possible to earn more than the person who introduced you.

What's so great about the products?

They benefit from having botanically based ingredients that produce results. In recent clinical trials the products significantly outperformed competitive products.

What makes Arbonne different from other companies?

Firstly the products are ultra-premium in quality and secondly it is a completely online company. Personally, I don't have to deliver products, take payments, or hold stock. Once someone has been introduced to Arbonne they buy online through their own unique login details and Arbonne do the rest.

I've read some negative blogs about Arbonne/ Network Marketing?

Bloggers are people who anonymously write their opinions on the Internet, they are often biased so therefore not always factual sources of information. If you want to look into Arbonne I highly recommend you do that but make sure you look in the right places. Start with: www.arbonneinternational.co.uk.

How much time does it take?

It takes as much time as you choose to spend on it. Most people do this alongside their full time job for additional income, so if you don't have lots of extra time, you just fit it in. It is effort based so the more time you commit to it the more successful you will be.
